Annex Plan for Dispatch of the Natural Resources

2. This Investigation Party shall be organized by the Fifth Committee.

3. The Investigation Party shall consist mainly of officials of the government offices concerned and civilian technicians and industrialists.

The head of the Investigation Party shall be a qualified man with experience in foreign negotiation and who is conversant with conditions in FRENCH INDO-CHINA.

The head of the Investigation Party shall supervise the Investigation Party, endeavor to maintain liaison with and coordinate all investigative sections, and also handle negotiations with the government offices of FRENCH INDO-CHINA concerning important matters incidental to the activities of the Investigation Party.

4. The Investigation Party shall be composed of the necessary members in accordance with the following outline:

(1) The General Affairs Section shall comprise the head of the Investigation Party and the members of his immediate staff. It shall exercise general control of, maintain liaison with, and coordinate all Sections, as well as investigate general matters pertaining to each Section.

(2) Investigations concerning agriculture and forestry shall deal with general agriculture, rice, corn, rubber, cotton, jute, forestry and live-stock breeding; and shall be divided among several Sections.

(3) Investigation concerning fisheries shall be carried on by the Fisheries Section.

(4) Investigations concerning the salt industry shall be carried on by the Salt Industry Section.

(5) Investigations concerning mining shall deal with mining in general, brief inquiry into mineral resources, non-ferrous metals (tin, zinc, copper, nickel, cobalt), iron, tungsten, manganese, anthracite, etc.; and shall be divided among several Sections.

(6) Investigations concerning hydroelectricity shall be carried on by the Electric Power Section.

Each Section mentioned above shall be dispatched according to its importance.

Each Section mentioned above shall respectively determine its own chief, who shall take a leading part in drawing up a concrete plan for investigation.

Moreover, each Section will be accompanied by a staff comprising approximately one assistant, an interpreter, and a guide or two.

The strength and organization of each Section may be suitably varied in accordance with its investigation plan.

5. Headquarters of the Investigation Party (General Affairs Section) shall be set up in the Consulate-General at HANOI.

6. Results of investigation shall be collected by each Section and reported to the Government by the head of the Investigation Party.

All results of investigation must be made known: their utilization in production on a commercial basis will be decided by the Government separately.

7. The term of investigation shall be, as a rule, about three months for each Section (about six months for the various Sections dealing with the mining industry).

The date of departure shall be fixed by each Section after consultation with the head of the Investigation Party. In addition, the head of the Investigation Party and the members of the General Affairs Section may remain in FRENCH INDO-CHINA for a certain period after the completion of investigation.

Understanding Reached at the Cabinet Meeting

Matters Concerning Organization and Budget of the Plan for Survey of the Economy of FRENCH INDO-CHINA (June 27, 1941)

1. A general and systematic economic survey shall be carried out by the permanent economic investigation organ to be established in the Japanese Consulates-General in HANOI and SAIGON.

Although the structure of the said permanent organ will be discussed separately, it is naturally an agency of the Foreign Ministry, and the Foreign Minister (or the Consul-General on the spot) shall handle its budget and directives relating to it.

2. Directives for the Natural Resources Investigation Party, to be dispatched to FRENCH INDO-CHINA shortly, shall be issued by the Foreign Minister and the Minister of Overseas Affairs. However, the organization of this Investigation Party and the disposal of the investigation reports shall be decided by the Fifth Committee after due deliberation.

3. As regards the expenses necessary for this Investigation Party, as a tentative measure in this fiscal year, all expenses budgeted for this fiscal year by the Ministry of Overseas Affairs and the Government-General of FORMOSA for economic investigation of FRENCH INDO-CHINA shall be appropriated for this Investigation Party as a part of its expenses. The deficit, moreover, shall be paid out of the Second Reserve Fund budgeted by the Foreign Ministry.

NOTE:

1. "Directives . . . . . shall be issued by the Foreign Minister and the Minister of Overseas Affairs," in Item 2 of this text, means that they are to be issued by the Foreign Minister at his instance after consultation with the Minister of Overseas Affairs.

Consequently, all the members of the Investigation Party shall follow the form of being commissioned by the Foreign Minister.

2. The jurisdiction over expenses to be required after the fiscal year of 1942 by the Investigation Party for Economic Conditions in the South shall be decided separately.

However, from the standpoint of overseas colonization, the expenses, under jurisdiction of the Ministry of Overseas Affairs, for investigations relative to production on a commercial basis shall remain unchanged.
